A collision between a northound Beliefontaine car and a heavily loaded coal wagon of the Polar Wave Ice Company yesterday afternoon at Seventh and St. Charles streets, the force of which rolled the car back on the tracks about six feet, badly damaged both car and wagon.

The axie of the wagon was broken off sharp by the impact, a front wheel knocked off and the entire front vestibule of the car reduced to kindling wood.

The really remarkable feature of the collision was that neither motorman nor driver was killed. Neither bore a scratch after the accident, and but one passenger out of about twenty on the car was reported injured. This was Otto Bauer of No. 2512A Easton avenue, whose right

WEATHER PREVENTS BREAK PROMISES BROWNS' PRACTICE

Miss White Tells Convention Del Manager McAleer and "Mutts" egates That Habit of Disap Will Arrive To-Day and Will Engage in Contests With the Regulars.

> The rainy weather prevented the Louis Browns from practicing yesterday, and the Regulars spent a weary way at the Southern Hotel. McAleer, with the "Mutte," will arrive this morning and, if the weather condi tions permit, they will practice. Although the Browns are not making any claims to pennant honors, the mem bers of the team believe that they will finish much better than last season.

McAleer and Hedges are sweet on their pitching staff, and declare their it is one of the best in the American League.

The line-up of the team for the first game will very likely include every regular on the team, and the chances are that Fred Glade and Joe Suguen will be the battery for the Browns next Saturday.

As to who will win the series is in doubt, The Cardinals are confident and so are the Browns. Nichols has already promised to send Jack Taylor against the Browns on the opening day, and as Jack is in splendid fettle the Browns are sure to experience much difficulty in solving his slante.

Taylor has always been good against the Browns, and he is very anxious to heat them in the opening game.

There is only one doubtful position on the Cardinal team now, and that is right field. Both Dunleavy and Josh Clarke look good and either one could put up a very fast article of baseball in right field for the Cardinals.

From present indications it appears as in right field for the Cardinals.

From present indications it appears as though bunleavy will line up in right field on the opening day, as he is in spiendid shape and hitting the hall well. In the infield the Cardinals will have practically the same men as last season. Jimmy Burke will be on third, while Captain Bave Brain will have to go back to his original position at short. Undoubtedly the Cardinals would be a much faster team with Danny Shav, but the chances are that they will have to get along without the fast little Californian.

Judge Franklin Ferriss, in presenting the Exposition's side of the case, stated that the architects who planned the Fair did not contribute their time so much for the compensation, but to participate "honorably and professionally in the making of a great Exposition."

He said that Mr. Gilbert had been paid $21.00 for office expenses and $1.00 for traveling expenses, hesides receiving the $10.00 honorarium, which, he said, he considered carried out the agreement of the Exposition company.

Mr. Gilbert was on the stand all afternoon. Large plats and drawings of the buildings were brought into court, and covered every table in the courtroom. The trial will be resumed to-day.

Many World's Fair officials were in attendance. Letters exchanged between Mr. Gilbert and Director of Works Taylor were read and introduced in evidence.

According to Mr. Gilbert, he was asked to act as one of the architects in designing the Fair, and appreciating the honor, accepted the commission. He understood at the time he was to design one building for which he was to receive $10,000 and expenses.

When he was asked to design Festival Hall, he said, Director of Works Taylor telegraphed to know-if he would design the work for the same compensation as charged for the Paince of Fine Arts.

In his reply, Mr. Gilbert stated that he said he would leave the matter of compensation to the Committee on Buildings. He said his first plans for Festival Hall were accepted, but it was decked that the building would be too costly, and a second set was prepared.
